AgustaWestland AW139

The AW139 is a 15 seat, medium-sized twin engine helicopter that supports VIP/corporate transport, offshore transport, fire fighting, law enforcement, search and rescue, emergency medical service, disaster relief and maritime patrol missions.

The AW139 was originally designed jointly by Italy-based helicopter manufacturer Agusta and US manufacturer Bell Helicopters and marketed as the Agusta-Bell AB139. It was redesignated as the AW139 after Bell withdrew from the project in 2005.

The helicopter is manufactured in Italy and the United States, and also by Poland-based subsidiary PZL- widnik and HeliVert, a 2012 joint venture between AgustaWestland and Russian Helicopters with a production line inside Russia. The maiden flight of the first pre-production helicopter took place on 3 February, 2001 at Vergiate, Italy. That of the first production unit came on 24 June, 2002 and it entered service in 2003. Italian certification was received in June 2003 and the FAA type certificate followed in December 2004.

The AW139 has a five-bladed fully articulated main rotor with a titanium hub and composite blades plus a four-bladed articulated tail rotor. It is powered by two FADEC-controlled P&WC PT6C turboshaft engines and has retractable tricycle landing gear.

Easy access to critical systems facilitates maintenance. Many components have been designed for an extended lifecycle and, where possible, the number of parts has been reduced. It is equipped with a Health and Usage Monitoring System.

In 2008, AgustaWestland certified an increase in the AW139 max gross weight to 14,991 lb to better compete in long-range markets. In 2015 this was increased to 15,432 lbs.

This Index is just the tip of the iceberg

HANDBOOK INDEX

SUBSCRIBING

This report is one of a series of indexes about specific aircraft types, and the companies that operate and support them all around the world, derived from data in the online Business Air News Handbook at www.businessairnews.com. It is updated every day.

Web site users can access these PDF reports free of charge simply by logging in. Those without login details can request access by contacting Janet Edwards on janet@businessairnews.com, or by completing the form at www.businessairnews.com/mag_subsfree.html

These reports are limited to just a few specific aircraft types, whereas the Business Air News Handbook on the web has data for around 400. Users can access a few pages a month to sample the data, and can take out a paid subscription for full and unlimited access.

UPDATING

To advise us of additions, updates or corrections to the data in this report, please contact Stephen Campbell on +44 (0)1279 714512 or stephen@businessairnews.com.
